

Vialegis and Legalia combine forces

Vialegis, market leader in Belgium for legal and tax recruitment and for legal interim management, has acquired Legalia, another niche company in the field of legal recruitment.

Legalia, which has been developing since 2012 under the direction of its founder Harold Dulait, has acquired a leading position in the legal recruitment and interim management market, particularly in the French-speaking market. In addition to Harold Dulait, two consultants work at Legalia, whose headquarters are in Wavre.

Harold Dulait: "We are delighted to join the Vialegis team, which enjoys an excellent reputation in our industry, and together we will undoubtedly be able to better serve our customers and offer our candidates excellent career opportunities. "

Philippe Jadoul, CEO of Vialegis, adds: "We have known Harold and Legalia for many years and have always respected them as a promising, correct and solid competitor. The fact that our methods and values are closely linked, as well as the geographical complementarity, makes our collaboration an evidence. We are very much looking forward to working with Harold and his colleagues. "

Harold Dulait and his two colleagues will join the Vialegis team and continue to work under the Vialegis brand. Vialegis will now have offices in Diegem and Wavre.
