

White & Case announces new Local Partner

WHITE & CASE

Global law firm White & Case LLP has promoted 21 lawyers to local partner and 21 lawyers to counsel in 21 offices, effective January 1, 2019 (see press release).

In Belgium, this meant good news for Tom Matthijs, who has been promoted to local partner in the Belgian and Luxembourg Transactional Group. Based in Brussels, Tom advises financial investors and corporate clients on both public and private M&A transactions, joint ventures and capital market operations, in addition to having broad experience in infrastructure and energy transactions. He specializes in private equity, having represented local and international PE houses on sell- and buy-side transactions.

Thierry Bosly, Head of the Belgian and Luxembourg Transactional Group comments: “Tom is an excellent lawyer combining strong technical, negotiation and interpersonal skills. He has been of great value in further developing our private equity and M&A practice and assisted several key clients based in Brussels and in the Flanders Region. I would like to congratulate him for this well-deserved promotion to local partner.”
