

Freshfields elects 2 new partners in the Brussels office

Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer LLP ('Freshfields') has announced the election of 22 new partners. The appointments, effective from 1 May 2019, are drawn from 11 of the firm's offices. Two of the new partners are based in the Brussels office: Tone Oeyen will become a partner in the Antitrust, Competition and Trade practice and Frédéric Elens will become a partner in the Global Transactions practice.

Commenting on the promotions, Freshfields' Senior Partner, Edward Brahams said, "We are delighted to announce the promotion of an outstanding group of lawyers to partner. Our clients are facing increasingly complex challenges in today's changing world, requiring global expertise and experience. Our new partners will play an important role in delivering the advice our clients want, wherever in the world that may be needed."
