

EY Law Belgium attracts Antoine Druetz

Expanding and boosting its non-profit practice, EY Law is proud to announce that Antoine Druetz joins the firm as Associate Partner.

Antoine Druetz, previously heading KOAN Law Firm's Non-Profit & Trade Associations Team has in-depth knowledge of the Belgian and European non-profit sector. Listed as Leading Individual by The Legal500 within the Not-for-profit category for several years, he brings over 15 years of experience working for European and international non-profit associations and foundations.

Antoine joins EY Law with his whole Non-Profit & Trade Associations team (i.e. Alix Degrez and Sakine Yilmaz) offering EY Law a significant step up in the expansion of the expertise it has acquired in the non-profit sector.

Antoine and his team apply a pro-active, pragmatical and comprehensive approach offering to their clients a tailor-made and global solutions, which is fully aligned with EY Law's multidisciplinary strategy. They will further develop the non-profit practice and pursue EY Law's ambition to become Belgium's number one integrated non-profit practice.

EY Law's Managing Partner, Peter Suykens states that he is "particularly happy with the arrival of Antoine. Antoine is recognised both by his peers and clients as a leading practitioner in the non-profit sector. His team offers high-quality services and professionalism. Their excellent reputation and expertise will certainly bring substantial additional experience to our non-profit practice.".

Antoine says of his move: "I am delighted to join EY Law. I am very much looking forward to contributing my non-profit expertise to EY Law's expanding non-profit practice. I am truly convinced that EY Law's multidisciplinary strategy and international network makes it the perfect environment for the team to offer clients excellent services and further develop."