

Compliance management ? Emerging themes

Companies tend to focus on certain obvious themes and do not always identify early enough emerging themes that may impact their business due to evolving business models, an acquisition in another product line or the impact of new markets on the existing risk profile.

Is your programme evolving quickly enough ? Can you gain understanding from others ? Are you even aware of those emerging risks ? The new executive programme \(Re\)inventing your compliance programme may be suited to help you to gain new insights , meet specialists and reflect on your current skillset and those of your organization.

Have a look at it and come to us if you have any question. The next edition is scheduled in September 2020, a limited number of seats are still available.
